

2/24/2010

VIA ELECTRONIC FILING

The Honorable Julius Genachowski, Chairman
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, S.W.
Washington, DC 20554

Re: Comments to Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking
Amendment of Parts 15, 74, and 90 of the Commission's Rules Regarding Low Power Auxiliary
Stations, Including Wireless Microphones
WT Docket Nos. 08-166, 08-167; ET Docket No. 10-24

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

Your attention to this important decision should be swayed by what is good for the public interest. This letter from my perspective describes common and professional microphone use that I have viewed in my fifteen year use of these wireless microphone products. I have worked as an AV integrator, concert engineer/ operator, and producer, for stage production and filmed broadcast, I rent and install equipment. I have worked with church leaders, elected officials, public servants, parents, children, actors and singers these and their audiences are the public which is us (you and me).

I am asking that the FCC to expand its part 74 rules and allow licenses to operate wireless microphones if this would ensure interference free operation. I would like this to be granted to myself as a certified and professional operator and a rule requiring all end user institutions and operators with more than one in use within a fifty foot radius at the same time require a license. The most important thing about interference free operations is that these recordings often become our history and archival 95% of what is staged is a single speaker the church evangelist, or public speaker but also passing the Mike for questions so please allow the public to operate on one frequency and licensed professionals have a dedicated grouping of forty interference free channels to operate in because communication is a basic essential building block of civilization. The license should cover thirty channels for A class and ten channels for a B class license, an individual should not be able to carry more than one A or B class license.

If you have any questions regarding these comments, please do not hesitate to contact the undersigned

Very truly yours,

Dennis Schuller
Owner
DS Productions
612-866-8424